

The Bridge

What might the bear and elk have been saying to each other when they first met on the bridge? Write a short conversation between them. Try to include an explanation from each of them about why they need to cross.

